Funeral Services For Andrew S. "Bud" Love

NEWS NOTES

Funeral services over the remains of Andrew "Bud" Love whose death was reported last week, were held in the 2nd Ward Church Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. with Elder W. A. Heninger of the Bishopric in charge. The choir was directed by Jos. McLean with Mrs. Emma Dahn at the organ, and the hymns were "Alita With Me," "Lead Kindly Light," and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." Jos. McLean sang one of the favorite songs of deceased as a solo.

The opening prayer was by Elder Christoffer Nilsen, the benediction by Elder C. F. Tollestrup and the grave was dedicated by Elder M. T. King of the Stake Presidency. Interment, taking place in the family plot in the local cemetery.

The speakers were Pres. A. E. Palmer of the Lethbridge Stake and Elder J. W. Evans, both of whom paid tribute to the lovable nature and unassuming character of deceased who was never too busy to render service and assist when asked. They spoke on the resurrection and the glorious hopes it held out to those who understood its teachings, and offered comfort and consolation to the sorrowing sisters and brother.

Pall bearers were four cousins and two nephews of deceased and were Douglas, Ezra and Willard Paxman, C. F. Tollestrup and LaMonte and Harris on Palmer. A lovely array of floral offerings bore silent tribute to the esteem in which deceased was held by his many friends, and considering the busy season the Saturday afternoon there was a very fine attendance present.

Cemetery Clean-Up Wednesday

The Annual Cemetery Clean-up will take place next Wednesday afternoon and evening, & the committee in charge will serve a free lunch to all who take part in this work. If you can spare an hour or two any time during the day, lend a hand in this necessary work.

NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Allen and family are vacationing for a few days in Waterton Park.

Mrs. Minnie Burgess, whose home is in California, is visiting with her mother Mrs. Jane Collett, a pioneer of Raymond.

Plan now for the beauty of your surroundings next year. Read the ad. of Paul Nakamura in this week's Recorder.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tollestrup and family of Melfort Sask., are holidaying with relatives and friends in Raymond.

Tom Forsythe was hurt last week when he was thrown violently from a horse. Carl Salmon took the injured man to the Lethbridge Hospital and his brother John from Cardston was notified and came down Friday to visit Tom and see how he was progressing. Apparently Tom is progressing alright as we have heard nothing more.

Melvin Godfrey was a Raymond visitor Thursday.

Monte Palmer was home Wednesday from his work at Macleod.

Loran Larson shipped out a fine bunch of young beef vester day mostly white faces.

Alex Harper, Remington Typewriter man of Lethbridge, was a Raymond visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mehew and family enjoyed a visit last week from Mrs. Mehew's brother Jos. Parr and company who lives in Utah. Mr. Parr expressed himself as thinking we had a wonderful country here.

The small daughter of Mrs. Davidson of Coleman, gave the household a good thought and a good laugh last week when on seeing a milk bottle of the Vance dairy, she said, "they surely are patriotic here, they even have 'V's' for Victory on their milk bottles." Not a bad idea at that.

Jack Bell, aged 17 who was accidentally shot two years ago died in hospital at Edmonton last Saturday. In the interval he received 97 transfusions, 100 X-rays and three operations. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bell and was wounded when a companion was attempting to load a gun.

The local Red Cross received their first "V for Victory" sweater last week when Bert Kirkham, who has done a great deal of Red Cross knitting turned in a sweater with a good-sized V with the Morse code. — also worked on its sleeve. That's making the "V for Victory" campaign work in real earnest.

We hope that Raymond people will co-operate in the drive to save gasoline, and we believe that as good Canadians, they will. We should appreciate the fact that the oil controller has no desire to curtail business nor necessary travel, but would like to eliminate unnecessary driving, and not have two cars go when one could do just as well for the trip. Whether we are rationed or not seems to be left largely with us.

A heavy thunder shower passed over the town about 11 p.m. Sunday night and for about two hours the lightning flashed and the thunder roared in close proximity to town and nearly rolled people out of their beds. Lightning struck the train formers on third east and put the light circuit out of commission until the water was skimmed off the oil and new fuses put in. Some early risers were after McNeely, local trouble shooter about 5 a.m. to get the "juice" on so they could wash. He wondered at so many people having insomnia.

FARMER IS FINED

Convicted of using purple gasoline while driving a tractor from one farm to another, Denton Sammons of Gleichen, Alta. was fined $1 and the tractor was impounded for 14 days when he appeared in police court on Tuesday.

Excellent Crop Prospects In District

As harvest is getting under way prospects for an excellent harvest prevail. Frequent showers during the past two weeks have greatly improved the outlook for heavy yields, the only thing that has suffered from the rains is the hay crop, second cutting of which has been laying now for two weeks or more, never getting quite dry enough to be stacked. A light shower, here Wednesday did not stop field work, but north of here near Wilson a cloudburst with some hail made the roads run with water. No damage to grain unless it was ripened wheat waiting for the combine would have resulted from the heavy downpour which lasted about half an hour.

Grain delivered so far to elevators has weighed 63 pounds to the bushel and graded No. 1 and it is expected that some exceptionally heavy yields will be taken off, especially in the ridge country south of town, where moisture has been so heavy that lodging has taken place in some fields and some acres may be difficult to harvest. North of town where the moisture has not been quite so heavy fields are ripening rapidly and combining will be general in another week. Binders are being used in many fields and where this is being done, it is under way now. So far as we have been able to learn there is no damage this year, from wheat stem sawfly and fields are being closely watched.

Feeders are busy lining up feeding stock and prices are high, $40 to $50 being paid for those being bought to date, many of them coming from the short grass country to the east. Beets look like a good crop despite the web worm attacks earlier in the season. Fields are uniform in stand, good color and are filling out rapidly now. Water, again will be a problem with the low flow in the river and the demand of beets for a great deal of water during the ripening process.

Mac Hicken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hicken arrived in Raymond Friday night last for a visit with friends and relatives here. Mac finished his mission some months ago and has been working in Salt Lake City, where he will return after a brief visit and holiday here.

The Sunday evening meeting in the 2nd Ward will be featured by the A. E. Palmer family from Lethbridge, and Elder Delbert Palmer who has recently returned from a mission to the Argentine will be the main speaker and will also have some souvenirs of the Latin American nation to show. All are invited to attend.

We received a interesting letter last week from H. R. Bryner, former Raymondite who now lives in Price, Utah, and who is now operating his own Grocery store, called the East End Grocery. Hardy still is interested in his friends in Raymond, and sends a subscription to the Recorder so he can keep a little closer in touch with us here. He reports the wife and children are feeling fine and all contented.

G. J. Gibb Elected To School Board

RED CROSS TEA

The Red Cross Tea held last Friday afternoon was very successful being attended by about 400 people throughout the afternoon and evening. Held on the 2nd Ward pavilion floor, the trees around the pavilion and flowers centering the tables made a very nice setting.

Mrs. J. L. Allen and Mrs. T. Geo. Wood had general charge of the affair and were ably assisted by the other ladies of the town in the serving of the lunch which was well prepared and greatly enjoyed by all who were able to attend.

SCHOOL FAIR

Things are progressing and lining up fast for the big School Fair and Hobby Show to be held September 11. Some five hundred prize lists have been distributed among the citizens of the town, and the public spirited business men have contributed toward the prizes. This year there will be fun for all, in connection with the School Fair and Hobby Show, there will be a soft ball tournament, Track Meet and the big day will finish up with an Amateur Hour open to all ages. So Mr. & Mrs. Citizen get your Hobby ready and proceed to the Opera House on Sept. 11.

Lions Meeting

The semi-monthly Lions meeting was held in the Sugar Bowl Monday evening last with President L. R. Pack in the chair. 34 members and 2 visitors were present. Jos. McLean, Lion Tamer, led the group in community singing with Casey Veen at the piano. The Kid from Holland and his orchestra then entertained the Club with some musical numbers.

Lion O. H. Snow gave a very interesting and instructive talk on Lionism, explaining the duties of officers and members in the organization. Lion V. Heggie reported on the enlargement of the Skating Rink and stated that the work would go ahead this fall.

Lions Jack Vanderhilt and Ray Attwood are captains of better attendance teams, who have been working for some weeks past, and next meeting the loser of the contest, with his team must eat beans at the banquet while the winner with his team eats chicken.

NEWS NOTES

Miss Harriet Fansett is home from her school year at the Mt. Royal College in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schneider and Mose Fromm were Lethbridge visitors last Friday.

Bob Frandley and Jimmy May were in Skiff on Monday taking some farm equipment down there and bringing a tractor back in the truck.

When thieves entered the Majestic Tool Co. early Sunday and stole all the micrometers and Gill blocks, about 400 precision tools, they really tied up the plant. Officials believe it to be the work of saboteurs.

In the election on Monday last, for a Trustee to fill the unexpired term of D. G. Selman, deceased, G. J. Gibb won out over C. F. Tollestrup and Alvin W. Jones. The voting was close throughout and only a few votes separated the winner and the loser in the election.

NEWS NOTES

The C. R. Wing family are spending their holidays in Waterton.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Snow are spending a week's holiday at Waterton Park, going on Tuesday evening for the rest of the week.

MacPhee and Atwood took delivery of a new Maroon one-ton truck from King Motors this week. This will replace the red one they have used for the past several years for their oil deliveries.

Showers Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, with considerable cloudy weather have tended to relieve the drought situation somewhat. Fields and gardens look good after the storms.

Howard Betts delivered some spring wheat to the Ellison Mill Friday which weighed 63 pounds to the bushel and graded No. 1. This crop was a 25 bushel yield on volunteer ground and "Mac" said it was really lovely wheat.

Elder Barker Selman was the speaker at the 2nd Ward Council Sunday evening and gave an interesting talk on the Friendly of Tongan Islands where he spent the greater part of his mission. A number of musical numbers added to the interest of the program.

Jos. Nilsson Injured By Lightning

Lightning really came close last Friday afternoon, when Jos. Nilsson local farmer was struck down by a lightning bolt as he raked the lawn in front of his home here in town.

He had finished cutting part of the lawn and was raking up the grass when the bolt hit him, knocking him to the ground and causing a slight concussion which seemed to effect mostly his right hand which is still drawn up and the fingers quite stiff and useless. Doctors believe it is only temporary and that the trouble will soon clear away again.

We sincerely hope so, as in the meantime Joe is severely handicapped, especially with harvest and the busiest season coming on and he unable to do much with his stiff right hand. He is still pale and rather shaky from his short but exciting association with lightning.

LET'S NOT WASTE THEM!

Most local gardens are yielding a wonderful harvest this year. Gardeners are likely to have all they want and to spare. In view of this condition, we should consider it a national duty to see that none of this garden produce is wasted. If we cannot take care of it ourselves, then we should invite our neighbors in to pick it, or if we choose, pick it ourselves and give it to those who may need it. That it may be made use of and not allowed to go to waste.

As good Britishers, we have pledged our all to the prosecution of this war to a successful finish. If we really want to save for Victory, then every quart of produce from our gardens that we, or our neighbors save, should be an extra quarter for a War Savings Stamp, or an additional boost for the Red Cross or a help to some other War project. After all, it doesn't matter so much what form our war help takes, so long as we are helping. The men and women who are home furnishing the money and means of war, are just as important in their day and time as the men and women who are actually on duty to meet and fight the enemy. It is all service and it is all part of the service that has to be rendered if our cause is to be victorious, and it MUST be victorious.

So, on to Victory by saving every bit of produce from our fields and gardens, and making this produce assist in the Victory drive of democracy against dictatorship and force.

TRY PUTTING IT IN PRINT

No editor but is frequently met with the reproach "Why don't you go after so-and-so in your paper?" It may be an organization or an individual that is up for criticism, and the advice always is "take a firm stand, no pussy-footing."

Well, as a rule, the editor tries to follow up the matter brought to his attention. He makes an effort to get both sides of the question. After prowling and probing, he assembles quite an amount of information pro and con. And as a rule he arrives at the conclusion that neither side is completely right, neither side is completely wrong. Something may have been done that seems questionable or unfair, but when the reasons for such action are forthcoming, they seem to justify the action. It would be much easier to take a firm stand on most contentious questions by refusing to hear anything but one angle. And it would be easy to make irreparable mistakes by pursuing this policy.

Oftimes when the editor is accused of not taking on some allegedly burning question, the real fact may be that he has gone to great trouble to collect and weigh many different viewpoints, and has come to the conclusion that no one side is sufficiently right to justify his espousal.

In this connection, a writer contributing to the "guest editorial" pages of the Bowmanville Statesman bursts forth in candid strain. He confesses that he seized the opportunity to write a guest editorial, rejoicing in the chance it would give him to air his peevish, and "mow down" a few officials against whom he had grievance. But soon his eager pen halted. He began to re-read his production, disturbed by the sudden thought that his attack was one-sided, and might not stand up to the cold scrutiny which is the test of the printed word. So he revised and rewrote until the finished product was as mild and measured as any of the articles which he was in the habit of condemning.

And there you are. The printed word does not permit of the extravagances granted to street corner conversation. But it is the best possible medium for a good argument well presented. — Ex.

Go to your friendly neighbourhood service station or your local garageman today. A surprise awaits you. He has changed. He will be as courteous and thoughtful as ever—glad to see you—eager to do anything and everything he can to help you. But he is no longer a gasoline salesman. He is a gasoline SAVER. He will urge you to buy less instead of more. He will point out ways and means of saving gasoline.

He will tell you all about the "50/50" Pledge to cut your gas consumption by fifty per cent. He will invite you to sign. This proud and patriotic sticker for your car will mark you as a member of the wise and thoughtful band of car owners co-operating with the Government to save gasoline.

This is entirely a voluntary movement. It is not rationing. This the Government hopes to avert. But we are faced with a critical shortage of gasoline due to the diversion of tankers for overseas service and to the growing needs of our Fighting Forces.

There is no call for panic—no need for alarm—but this war is being fought with gasoline and we are fighting for our very lives. Sign the Pledge today and continue to save fifty per cent of your gasoline consumption.

It is also vitally important that you reduce the use of domestic and commercial fuel oil.

ernment fuel economy campaign, certain simple rules are available.

The following list of driving tips has been compiled by C. E. McTavish, Director of Parts and Service, General Motors Products of Canada Limited, after consultation with General Motors engineers and service experts. These hints are offered by Mr. McTavish to the Canadian motoring public, with Mr. McTavish's comment that a maximum of economy is built into the modern automobile but that there are certain things that the motorist himself must do to eliminate avoidable waste of gasoline and oil. Here is Mr. McTavish's list:

1. Accelerate gently. A fast-get-away may be spectacular, but it wastes gasoline.

2. Do not stay in second gear beyond 20 m.p.h. Roaring second gear speeds devour large quantities of fuel.

3. Start to decelerate a sufficient distance from your stopping point to allow the momentum of the car to carry you along with a minimum use of gasoline.

4. Drive at moderate speeds. Remember the best economy is obtained at speeds 25 to 35 m.p.h. The faster you drive above this speed the greater the requirements of fuel and oil per mile.

5. Keep your engine tuned up for the best efficiency. Dirty spark plugs can waste one gallon of gas for every ten used. Tightly adjusted valves not only cause burned valves, but result in poor fuel economy. Ignition points properly adjusted, and ignition properly timed, will give you the best performance and greater fuel economy.

6. Keep your car well lubricated. Keep the tires inflated to the proper pressure. Make sure the parking break is in the completely released position. In other words let your car roll freely.

7. Don't let your engine idle more than is necessary. Even an idling engine consumes gasoline.

8. Do not postpone a necessary engine overhaul. Worn rings drastically reduce engine power, and result in more oil and gasoline being consumed.

9. Watch the choke, especially if it is manually operated. Don't forget to push it to the "off" position as quickly as possible after starting a cold engine.

10. Avoid pumping the accelerator up and down. This rumps a slug of gasoline out of the carburetor every time you make a downward motion.

In conclusion, Mr. McTavish draws attention to another fuel waster. Don't overfill the gasoline tank. The gas station attendant naturally wants to put all the gasoline he possibly can in your tank, but quite often he will spill some (for which you pay) in trying to get the last quart in. And remember that gasoline expands with heat, and if you park your car in the sun with the tank full, that expanding gasoline has got to go somewhere and that will be out of the gas tank vent.

SALT SURFACING

Salt surfacing of Alberta highways is an experiment undertaken by the public works department which will be watched with interest by all motorists. It is claimed that this type will be cheaper than bituminous surfacing, providing that the results are satisfactory.

Another interesting feature of the experiment is that the calcium chloride or salt may be extracted from the extensive deposits of tar sands at Murray, which have drawn the attention of industrialists in recent years.

It is claimed that if the moisture conditions are favorable, salt surfacing will give satisfactory results. Under the method followed, salt is spread, mixed in with the dirt, the surface rolled and moisture will cause it to harden like cement.

In the east and elsewhere, the only man who has ever done so. But the lure of journalism caught and held him. It brot him to London immediately after Munich, and it holds him here in the midst of the blitz. To him it is the place—the criterion of the true journalist—where things are happening. But he does long for one thing—light. The nightly black out is to him, as to many others, the most trying feature of the war; and he finds himself yearning, as he gropes his way to the BBC studio, for the bright lights of the Western Hemisphere.

Everything possible should be done to utilize the natural resources of this province. When material for road surfacing is right at our doors, surely there should be no hesitancy in making use of it, providing that it is suitable.

Obviously the experiment which the province is making on a two-mile stretch of highway between Edmonton and St. Albert should have a reasonable time before final results are determined, but the fact that salt surfacing has grown in popularity and demand in the east indicates that there are fair prospects for its success in Alberta.—Voice of Motordom.

AN OLD PRINCIPLE — A NEW APPLICATION

Just what will be the measure of the effect of the "V" for Victory campaign which is now sweeping through the occupied countries, and through all English speaking nations it is impossible to estimate accurately. Of one thing, however, we can rest assured; and that is that the effect will be great.

This idea is not the application of any new principle—nor of any principle which has laid dormant. The letter "V" has no black magic in its use. Any other letter of the alphabet would serve the purpose equally well if the proper word could be found to go with it, and if it were easy to apply. The whole idea is based on the same natural trait which brought into being the national flag. The love of men, and the dependence of men, on symbols. The flag is the symbol which makes us feel that we are a part of the nation that we are not alone in the battle, but are supported by the millions of oth-

THE SCOTS-CANADIAN WHO SPEAKS FROM LONDON

"A Journalist pure and simple" is how the principal news commentator in the B. B. C.'s North American Service, J. B. McGeachy, describes himself. A Scots-Canadian with the tang of both countries in his deep, confident voice, he has packed into his twenty years of journalism a wide experience of the North American continent. Three of his happiest years were those he spent as Washington, D.C. correspondent and commentator for the Winnipeg Free Press and the Associated Papers of Canada. In that capacity he covered the Roosevelt-Landon election. He has also been a Press Gallery man in the Canadian Parliament at Ottawa, and a contributor to papers as widely separated as the New York Times and the English Manchester Guardian.

J. B. McGeachy is of Highland blood, his family belonging to the sect of MacDonalds of Clan Ranald, in the south west isles of Scotland. He himself was born in Glasgow, and spent his school days at the famous academy of that city. The big break came in his fourteenth year, when he left for Canada in the great pre-war flood of emigration.

After a few more years at a Canadian public school he started on an academic career at the Saskatchewan University, going on from there to Toronto University and Princeton, U.S.A. Finally, he won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford—and did not take it up! He is, he believes, the only man who has ever done so. But the lure of journalism caught and held him. It brot him to London immediately after Munich, and it holds him here in the midst of the blitz. To him it is the place—the criterion of the true journalist—where things are happening. But he does long for one thing—light. The nightly black out is to him, as to many others, the most trying feature of the war; and he finds himself yearning, as he gropes his way to the BBC studio, for the bright lights of the Western Hemisphere.

ers in the field and at home. But here is a circumstance where a flag would not suffice. A flag cannot be easily made under the watchful eye of a malicious conqueror—a flag is a national thing, and could not be made to appeal to men of many nations—it is not easy to draw flags here, there and everywhere. You cannot make a flag from a formation of airplanes. You cannot whistle it.

Herein lies the value of "V for Victory." It means as much as any flag, and it can be universally used, even in the very presence of the enemy. The code signal for "V" — — — — — can be whistled, can be made in music and voice. The letter "V" is easily and quickly made with chalk, paint, or mere scratches. Two sticks, a knife and fork, two fingers held up . . . there are a hundred and one ways that the new flag of victory can be flown. And every time the sign is made it reminds some one else that he or she is not alone, but is one of the millions who are actively preparing for the day when Hitler and his vile hordes will go to their reward.

"V for Victory" in its very simplicity bespeaks the genius of its inventor, "V for Victory" will be a tremendous power in the strengthening of unity and resolve among those who are to eventually free the world from Nazism.—Chauvin Chronicle.

NEWS NOTES

The Welling Ward are holding their Annual Ward Outing this afternoon at Fort Whoop Up. The usual good time is expected.

Queen Elizabeth, the lady with the million dollar smile, observed her 41st birthday on Monday, spending the day in the country with His Majesty the King and their two children. Our congratulations, with the rest of Canada to the Empire's much loved and respected Queen.

A little less than one month and the children return again to school and life will resume its normal routine. We are still of the opinion that our school year of ten months is from six weeks to two months too long and should be shortened.

Next Wednesday night a Red Cross dance is booked for the Pavilion with the Cardston Aces dispensing the music. Everyone is invited, and this will give those who enjoy tripping the light fantastic an opportunity of helping the Red Cross and also having a real time at the dance. Come one, come all.

Our employment Department, always in close touch with business offices, reports a steady demand for graduates. Our problem this year is not to find good jobs—but to supply trained graduates to fill the demand. Early opportunities await those who qualify.

Office positions offer year-round income, pleasant environment, stimulating associates and a place of respect in the community. And best of all they offer opportunity for advancement and for security after the war is over.

Our Fall Term opens September 2, but you may enter immediately and thus begin earning that much earlier. Write for information.

NEWS NOTES

In keeping with the advice of Dominion Government's suggestions, many people are busy now filling their coal bins for the coming winter. It is to be hoped that those who have purchased oil stoves during the past few years will be able to obtain fuel oil for their use. It would mean the shelving of quite an investment for these people if the supply of fuel oil were cut off definitely.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Leavitt of Cardston were visitors at the S. I. May home the first part of this week.

Improvements have been made the past ten days around the Welling Church House under the direction of Bishop Floyd Wilde. A new cement cistern has been constructed for water, and a five foot cement sidewalk was laid across the entire front of the grounds this week. We understand that all labor was donated.

JURY BRINGS IN VERDICT OF CARELESS DRIVING

The coroner's jury, hearing the evidence Wednesday afternoon in connection with the accident in which Bud Love was killed, brought in a verdict of careless driving against Lloyd Dahl, driver of the car. Fourteen witnesses were heard during the hearing.

Prior to the hearing police preferred a charge of manslaughter against Lloyd, and the preliminary hearing is set for next Thursday morning. In the meantime Lloyd is under $4,000 bail.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Knight have been here spending a vacation with relatives and friends.

Attendance at the M Men Gleaner outing at Waterton Park Wednesday surpassed all expectations, and a trip had to be made to Waterton for lunches so that all could be provided for. Arrangements were made for 300 and those present said there were easily a hundred above the number that had been prepared for. It was a tri-Stake outing.

Prices for beef and pork continue high. We believe that all Canadians are reducing their consumption of meat to meet the Government's request. In many cases it is not so much the urge of loyalty as it is the feeling that present prices make it out of the question for the average family to have meat on the table more than a day or two a week.

BACK TO WALKING

(Winnipeg Free Press)

When the government asks us to stop using gasoline, it means just that. It means that unnecessary automobile driving has got to stop. It means that hundreds of thousands of Canadians who are in the habit of driving to work in the morning and driving back at night have got to walk, or use buses or street cars. It means that house-wives who drive down town to do their shopping must do it on foot. It means that the family airing on hot nights must be done without the use of the car. It means that one of the deeply ingrained habits of this country and this continent has got to be rudely uprooted. We have got to do what our fathers did—and walk Canadians are not finding this easy to do. The gasoline habit is deep down in them. It is in many homes the sole expensive luxury that is indulged in. People enjoy moving from place to place sitting down. They have done it, in increasing measure, for more than 20 years. Now the demands of the war make it essential to cut the habit off short. If Canadians do not change this habit of theirs of their own accord, the government is going to do it for them. Gasoline will be rationed, and the people who do not really need it will get none at all.
